Senator James E. Watson and Fred VanNuys, Former District Attorney to Speak at Celebration

OTHER FEATURES PLANNED

Thursday, June 15, to be Home-Coming Day, When Parade and Pageant Will be Held

BENJAMIN RUSH MAY ATTEND

Partial Assurance Received From Direct Lineal Descendant of Man For Whom County is Named

With definite promises from Senator James E. Watson and Fred VanNuys of Indianapolis, former district attorney for Indiana, and partial assurance from Benjamin Rush, direct lineal descendant of the Benjamin Rush for whom Rush county was named, to be present at the Rush county centennial celebration in Rushville Wednesday and Thursday, June 14 and 15, the program committee has outlined a tentative program for the two days which will likely be followed in commemorating the one hundredth birthday of the county.

Miles S. Cox, chairman of the executive committee, has very cordial letters from Senator Watson and Mr. VanNuys, who will speak, and a letter from Mr. Rush saying that he will be here if it is at all possible. Mr. Rush is the chairman of the board of directors of the Insurance Company of North America, Philadelphia.

The tentative program calls for exercises in the court house yard Wednesday afternoon, which will include a concert by the Indianapolis News' Newsboys' band, the dedication of the bronze tablet by the Rushville chapter of the D. A. R. which is to be placed in the lower corridor of the court house, announcement of the awards in the Rush county history essay contest and an address by Mr. VanNuys.

Thursday has been designated as Home-Coming Day. The program will open with a parade at 1:30 o'clock which is expected to depict the development and progress of the century which has been spanned since Rush county was organized. The parade will end at the coliseum in the city park where there will be a concert by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home band, followed by an address by Senator Watson. At night there will be a pageant at the coliseum in which the various townships will participate and which will

TO BE REFILED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill Against Robert Burns Dismissed in Stech's Court

DEFENDANT APPEARS TODAY

Robert Burns, owner of the carnival company which exhibited here last week, and which is showing at Columbus this week, appeared this morning before Justice John Stech in answer to a charge preferred last Saturday by James O'Brien, in which he was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

The show owner had been released with the promise to return today, and when he appeared, Prosecutor A. C. Stevens filed a motion to dismiss the case. He stated later that the state had not had time to gather in their witnesses, and that he would refile the charge in the circuit court before Judge Sparks early Friday morning.

O'Brien, the prosecuting witness in the case, is here recuperating from injuries sustained one night on the carnival grounds, when he was assaulted by someone, and beaten about the face. He charged the owner of the show and another man with the crime, but the other party could not be located by the officers.

deal with the lives of the pioneers in Rush county.

The committee in charge of the parade is actively engaged in making preparations for this part of the program with the hope that it will exceed the parade held in Rushville in 1916 when the Indiana centennial was celebrated. An effort is being made to interest all industrial establishments in the county so that they will have a float in the parade, and the same effort will be put forth in each township in order to have every one of them represented.

The committee in charge of the closing event on the program, is writing a pageant to cover all phases of the development of the county, which will be enacted on the stage at the coliseum. Many of the townships have figured in the early history of the county will be represented in the pageant.

Senator Watson says in his reply to Mr. Cox, accepting the invitation to attend the Rush county centennial and speak that, "While I have for the last year religiously refrained from accepting invitations to speak, nevertheless I have not the hardihood to decline the one you extend to me on behalf of the committee representing the citizens of Rush county."

"The people there have been generous to me far beyond my poor deserts and I cannot but accede to whatever request they make and answer whatever call they issue. Therefore, I am pleased to accept your invitation and I shall be pleased if you will keep me informed from time to time as to the program of the exercises and as to just what will be expected of me on that occasion."

"I am willing to come out to Rushville," he ends the letter by saying, "either to speak or not to speak just in order to attend the celebration and be among home folks and if I do speak it is now and will then be a matter of indifference to me whether it be for five minutes or two hours and whether it be accompanied by the noise of a good-natured crowd on pleasure bent or in the midst of a silence as dense as that which exists across Flatrock bridge on the higher side of the river. Fix it up to suit yourself and it will be all right with me. Please give my thanks to the other members of the committee for this kindly remembrance and believe me to be, Faithfully yours,

"JAMES E. WATSON."

Mr. VanNuys, who was born and reared in Washington township and is now a member of the law firm of Ralston, Gates, Lairy, VanNuys and Barnard of Indianapolis, writes as follows accepting the invitation:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, and its kind invitation to speak at the Rush county centennial celebration on Wednesday, June 14.

"I want to take this opportunity to express to you and your committee my deep appreciation of the honor of this invitation. While this spring promises to be a very busy one in court, I shall take pleasure in coming to Rushville on this day and doing what I can to assist in the success of the day.

"Once more thanking you and your committee for the invitation, and with kind personal regards, I beg to remain, Very truly yours,

"FRED VANNUYS."

ASSESSING WORK ABOUT FINISHED

Annual Spring Task is Being Brought To a Close by the Township Assessors This Week

NEXT MONDAY IS LAST DAY

The assessing of personal property and real estate is gradually being brought to an end this week, as next Monday is the last day of the spring assessment period.

After the township assessors report to the county assessor, the county board of review will meet early in June and begins its review of the assessment lists.

The work is practically all completed in Rushville township, but some of the other township assessors will be busy the remainder of the week gathering up the loose ends of their tasks in time to report next Monday.

Guy Gordon and John Davis, deputy assessors who were assigned to the work of valuing Rushville city real estate for taxation purposes, concluded their duties today, and George Aultman, Rushville township assessor, and Dan Spivey, deputy, have concluded the assessment of personal property in the city. Ed Flechart, deputy, has also finished the work on personal property in the township outside of Rushville, but John Joyce, who assessed real estate in the township outside the city, is not quite through.

TWO BANDITS HOLD UP ALERT STATE BANK

After Handcuffing Cashier and Assistant Together, They Escape With $1,500 in Money

ONE GUARDS THE AUTOMOBILE

Alert, Ind., May 11.—Two armed bandits held up the Alert State bank today and escaped with $1,500 in money.

One of the men guarded an automobile while the other entered the bank with a drawn revolver. "Do what I tell you or I will kill you both," he told the cashier, Ray Campbell, and Miss Cordie Cheek, assistant to Campbell.

Pulling out a pair of handcuffs, he clamped one of them on Campbell's wrist and the other over the wrist of Miss Cheek. Campbell thus was held prisoner outside the cashier's cage and Miss Cheek on the inside. He rummaged through the vault and scraped all money he could find into the sack. The pair drove away toward Columbus at top speed and escaped.

FOUR DROWN IN FLOOD

Houston, Tex., May 11.—Four persons were drowned by flood waters in South Texas. Two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Noack were drowned at Winchester. Woody Hanks and Boss Patterson were drowned in the Brazos near Somerville while trying to give warning of weakened condition of a Santa Fe railroad bridge. All bodies were recovered.

LIBRARY RECEIVES ITS FIRST GIFT TODAY

Check For $500 Delivered to Board Under Terms of the Will of the Late Edward Austin

AN EXAMPLE FOR OTHERS

The Rushville public library today received its first gift of money.

The donation was a check for $500 from the estate of the late Edward Austin, who died a few years ago at New Salem and who made a bequest to the library in his will. The estate has just been settled and under the terms of the settlement the check was turned over to the library board.

The board has not yet determined what disposition will be made of the gift. It is probable that the sum will be used as a nucleus of a building fund, but this has not been definitely determined.

Members of the board are hoping that this is an example which will be followed by other citizens of the county. The need of a public library building has long been felt here and in this gift is seen what may be the beginning of the growth of a fund for a suitable building to house the library.

LIFE IN THE LOG CABIN

Log Dwelling Usually About 18 by 20 Feet Was Workshop as Well as Home for Pioneers of Rush County, Who Had to Depend on Their Own Ingenuity For Necessities of Life.

The following article is the sixth of a series regarding the early history of Rush County, which will be published in the Daily Republican between now and the Rush county centennial celebration in June. They will deal with various stages of the early development of the county and were written at the request and suggestion of the publicity committee for the centennial.—Editor's Note.

By MRS. T. M. GREEN
A hundred years of Rush county history have passed, and the humble cabins of a century ago have all been supplanted by more modern buildings, keeping pace with other improvements which have been accomplished during that period.

In so far as the writer can learn, not a single inhabitable log cabin remains in the county; and this is lamented by the people who love the old-time things, and cherish the relics of long ago—not that they would care to return to the privations of that early day, or be deprived of the present day advantages, but there was a wholesomeness, a sincerity, a love for the home and a contentment which at least causes a sigh to those who have experienced the life.

Richmond City Officials Consider Fire Equipment Like Rushville's

Major Hanley of Richmond, accompanied by Mr. Land, president of the Board of Works and another member of the board, and the fire chief, Edward Miller, all of Richmond, were here Wednesday afternoon inspecting the Seagrave fire truck and pumping engine. Chief Joe Williamson and Firemen Barnes and Moffitt took the truck to the Mill race in South Main street and demonstrated the pumping qualities to the Richmond delegation. That city has six fire stations, and the board meets this afternoon to make their first purchase of a motor pumper, and it is said that they are very much in favor of buying a truck similar to the one in use here.

DIVORCE CASE COMES TO AN ABRUPT END

John T. Meek Dismisses Complaint Against His Wife at Greensburg—Costs Against Plaintiff

DARNELL HEARING IS NEXT

The divorce suit of John T. Meek against Daisy Meek in the Decatur circuit court, came to an abrupt ending Wednesday at Greensburg, when the plaintiff dismissed his complaint, taking the matter out of court. It had previously been intimated that a divorce would be refused. Mrs. Meek, who had filed a cross complaint, had dismissed her action on the first day of the trial.

Judge Craig assessed the costs in the case against the plaintiff, which are said to reach an enormous amount because over 70 witnesses from Rush and Decatur counties had been summoned. The petition of the defendant for an allowance for attorney fees was overruled.

The suit involved a four-corner affair, and there is at present a $10,000 alienation case pending in that court against Meek, filed by Glass Darnell of near Milroy, who alleges that Meek was intimate with his wife. Darnell also has a divorce suit pending in the Rush circuit court, against his wife, Mabel Darnell.

C. W. Duncan and John A. Tisworth of Rushville were among the attorneys in the action at Greensburg and represented the defense.

PARTLY IDENTIFY THREE SUSPECTS

Chicago Authorities Believe They Have Some of Men Implicated in Killing of Policemen

THREE HUNDRED MEN IN JAIL

Conviction Grows Actual Killers Were Hirelings of Higher-ups Trying to Defeat Landis Award

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 11.—Three hundred men, packing the city jails were in custody today in connection with the labor war killing of two policemen. Three of the suspects had been partially identified as the slayers of the two officers. High union officials were under arrest and will be prosecuted on charges of inciting to riot and with having fostered a reign of terror that resulted in loss of life, under statutes similar to those on which instigators of the Haymarket riots were convicted of anarchy.

Authorities are convinced that the men who did the actual killing were merely hirelings of higher-ups who are trying to defeat the Landis award.

Rewards totalling $60,000 for arrest of the slayers spurred all Chicago to a gigantic man hunt.

The three men partially identified as the slayers were:

Isador Braverman, 28, named by two policemen as one of the men responsible for the attack which killed Lieutenant Terrence Lyons. Braverman's family advanced an alibi.

Max Glass, 33, member of the Glazier's Union and suspected of having driven an automobile from which Policeman Clark was killed.

John Lafferty, notorious police character was partly identified as the third man in the car by an eye witness.

The policemen were killed when they tried to intercept an automobile in which men who tried to bomb buildings, were riding.

Efforts were made today to obtain release of the big three in Chicago building trades unions who were taken into custody following the murder—Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council; Big Tim Murphy, the "power" behind Mader and Cornelius Shea, Union officials.

JUDGE SPARKS IS ADVANCED 2 NOTCHES

Becomes Grand Junior Warder Which is Step Further Than He Was Expected to Go

K. T. STATE CONCLAVE ENDS

Judge Will M. Sparks was advanced two notches at the sixty-eighth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, which ended a two days session in Indianapolis today, when he was elected Grand Junior Warder, which is a step further than he was expected to advance in the path to the Grand Commander's office.

Noblesville won the attendance cup in the parade of the state lodges Wednesday, by having 112 percent present. This was accounted for by having all members present that were in the order on January first, plus those who have been taken in since that time.

The Rushville Commandery was represented with over 60 members in the parade, but their percentage dropped to 45, and Greenfield was well represented, having 65 percent present.

Judge Sparks was to have been advanced to grand standard bearer this year, but on account of one of the officers above him moving from the state, he was advanced two offices.

WHEAT ADVANCES 7 CENTS

Chicago, Ill., May 11.—May wheat advanced seven cents on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The advance was explained as largely due to heavy deliveries on contracts by traders. Unfavorable weather and crop reports also influenced the advance, export buyers of all grains were advised.

TO WITHDRAW NAME OF NAT GOLDSTIEN

Sen. Spencer Asks Withdrawal of His Nomination as Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis

TO SPARE EMBARRASSMENT

(By United Press)

Washington, May 11.—Nat Goldstein of St. Louis has requested President Harding to withdraw from the senate his nomination as collector of internal revenue at St. Louis, Senator Spencer of Missouri announced to the senate today.

Spencer read to the senate a letter to the president from Goldstein which Spencer presented to Harding. The letter said that on account of the many unpleasant things said in the senate regarding Goldstein's acceptance of $2,500 to be a Lowden delegate at the republican convention in 1920, Goldstein felt he must withdraw so as to spare the president embarrassment and to keep democrats from making political capital of the nomination.

Spencer indicated that President Harding would accede to Goldstein's request and withdraw his name from the nomination.

Spencer said he would not refrain from putting into the record expressions of confidence in Goldstein from prominent citizens of St. Louis, although he added that Goldstein's withdrawal to prevent embarrassment to his friends, showed his true character. He then read letters from leading citizens praising Goldstein.

General Amnesty

Attorney General Daugherty is not so easily stampeded as some men who have occupied his important position. Recently a group of women organized a parade of children to petition the President to grant a "general amnesty" to all so-called "political prisoners"—men who have been convicted of impeding the prosecution of the war. One of the children carried a banner which had been prepared for her bearing the legend "My daddy never saw me." All this was intended to win sympathy and distract attention from the plain fact that the prisoners have been found guilty, by the unanimous verdict of juries, of violating the law.

President Harding very properly referred the petitioners to the department of justice, where they were told that each application for a pardon will be acted upon separately and on its own merits solely, and there will be no general pardon granted. That is good sound sense. Whatever may be the merits of one case, it should have no effect, favorable or unfavorable, upon any other case. Whether a daddy has ever seen his daughter has nothing, whatever to do with the matter. If he has not seen his daughter through fault of his, that is not a reason for granting him clemency. If the United States had not gone into the war and, having gone in, had not helped win the war, an invading army might have made this man sorry he had a daughter at all. The time for a man to think about his children is when he contemplates the commission of a crime, and the thought should act as a deterrent. If he will not think of them then, he ought not take refuge behind them when he is called to account for his defiance of the government which affords protection not only for him but for his family and friends.

President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty merit the highest praise for refusing to be misled into wholesale clemency for one of the most dangerous classes of criminals. Quite likely there are instances where a commutation of sentence might be proper, but the facts of the individual case and not maudlin sentiment should determine the action to be taken.

SHELBYVILLE TO BE NEXT OPPONENT

Tail Lights Will Play Away From Home and Are Hoping For a Win With Strengthened Team

LESTER SNYDER LOOKS GOOD

His Performance Last Sunday Made Hit With Fans—Byrne is Named Field Manager

With the showing made by the Tail Lights last Sunday against Greenwood, a large crowd is expected to accompany the team to Shelbyville Sunday, where they hook up with the Shelbyville Nationals. The local crew is out to win from the Shelby county aggregation and will give them a hard fight for the honors. The management of the Shelbyville team expects one of the largest crowds in history to witness the game.

Signing of four new players by the Tail Lights is a big boost to the team and playing the brand of ball they exhibited last Sunday, they will make it interesting for any club in the Southern Indiana Baseball Association. Lester Snyder, the new southpaw hurler, seems to be the goods and his performance last Sunday made a hit with the fans. He is cool headed at all times and with the breaks would have won his game last Sunday. He held the Greenwood sluggers to seven scattered bingles.

His brother, Paul Snyder, plays a snappy game at second base and looks good at the stick. Colbe in the outfield is an all around ball player and is expected to be one of the mainstays of the club. The ability of "Slim" Neideffer is well known. He is at home on the infield or out and is relied upon to deliver the goods with the bat. Last Sunday he hit in the pinch and drove in Rushville's two runs. With Byrne, Shaw, Barney, George, Pearsey, Joyce, Sharp and Smith on the squad it is believed that the team will stack up with the best of them.

At a meeting of the club Monday night Byrne was named as field manager for the team and will have complete charge of the men on the field. Practice is being held regularly at the park in preparation for the Shelbyville game and the boys expected to give a good account of themselves. On Sunday, May 21, the Brookville club will be the attraction here.

Need Target Practice

(By United Press)

Muncie, Ind., May 11—Either the Muncie police will have to take a course in target practice or:

School children must don suits of armor school authorities declared today.

While the police were vainly seeking the life of a stray dog near the Blain school this morning, a bullet struck the earth at the feet of a teacher watching children at play in the yard. A second bullet crashed through a window of one of the rooms.

The police declared they were shooting in the opposite direction but school authorities are skeptical and an investigation has been asked.

BLANK THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Shamrocks ball team blanked the high school team Wednesday afternoon in a practice game on the Tail Lights diamonds, by the score of 11 to 0. Martin pitched air tight ball for the winners. The feature of the game was a home run knocked over the fence by Lester Caron, with two on base. The batteries were: Shamrocks, Martin and Tyler; high school, Lakin, Warth and Lucas.

This Time Last Year

Ruth hit a single and a double off Sutherland in Detroit, the Yanks losing 2 to 1.

American polo team beat the "Freebooters" 11 to 2 in an exhibition game in London.

Tex Richard insured Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier for $50,000 each.

Dempsey eased up training in his Atlantic City camp being within ten pounds of fighting weight.

Cleveland knocked Walter Johnson out of the box and beat Washington 14 to 1.

The Score Board

Yesterday's hero—Art Nehf, a southpaw, got three hits in four times up for the Giants and drove in three runs, beating the Cards 3 to 2.

Jimmy Dykes hit a homer with one on in the eighth and the Athletics again bounced the Indians 7 to 6.

Joe Judge tripled in the third inning with two on and the Senators beat the Browns 2 to 1 after losing seven straight.

Lee Meadows let the Cubs down with three hits and the Phils won 4 to 0.

Deacon Scott plugged Johnson in the back with a thrown ball in the 11th inning and, let in the run that gave the White Sox a 2 to 1 win over the Yanks.

Fillingim held the Reds safe in tight places while Laque and Gillespie were pounded hard, the Braves winning, 9 to 3. Southworth hit a homer.

Doubles by Bassler and Blue in the 9th gave the Tigers a 10 to 9 victory over the Red Sox.

Baseball Notes

The Boston Red Sox have released outfielder Fred McGaffey of Lynn.

Chuck Fonn, a Chinese ball player, has been practicing with the Athletics.

According to eastern critics there is more interest in baseball this spring than ever.

"Babe" Ruth as a vaudeville artist, has clearly shown that he is a great baseball player.

The St. Louis Cardinals believe that they have the pitching find of the season in Barfoot.

Manager Mack of the Athletics is still having difficulty getting a good pitching staff together.

"Speed" Martin, veteran Cub hurler, has been released to the St. Paul American Association club.

Modern improvements have not made life more enjoyable for the occupant of the baseball cellar.

H. A. Fricks, 24, of Swarthmore, Pa., has been elected captain of the Wesleyan varsity baseball team.

For the first time in years the Athletics are commencing to act like a real major league baseball team.

Nick Altrock is going into the movies all right. Re-enforced cameras and double-thickness lens make it possible.

President W. H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast league has forbidden the growth of whiskers by the members of the Sacramento team.

The baseball being used in the major leagues this spring is not as lively as that of last spring, yet there seems to be plenty of heavy hitting.

Speaker is reported to have said that if Duster Mails reached his old-time form this spring the Indians would be in the pennant fight.

Pitcher Ira-Eat Townsend has been sent to the Toronto club. He was with the Braves all last season and is a famous batting practice hurler.

A headline tells of the arrest of a California thief who "stole home a piece at a time." The man who takes that long to steal home ought to be sentenced to work in Connie Mack's outfield.

Experts who have watched the rebuilt Phillies under the leadership of Kaiser Wilhelm claim this team is going to hand out a lot of surprises before the season is over.

PART OF REDUCTION PLANS

(By United Press)

Washington, May 11.—A virtual redistribution of the regular army in the interest of economy and efficiency was announced today by the war department. This redistribution is to make the smaller army congress has authorized more effective.

Practically the entire army is now needed, the department said, to prepare and conduct the citizens training camps this summer. In addition to the transfer of four army corps areas, the department announced the following order for troop movement, some of which were said to be tentative.

Fifth corps of eleventh Infantry, from Camp Knox, Ky., to Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Sixth corps area, a part of the 54th Infantry, will be moved from Camp Grant, Ill., to Set Fridge Field, Mich., unless that regiment should be rendered inactive because of reductions of the army.

A part of the Second Barracks, Third Field Artillery, reconstituted from training batteries will be stationed at Fort Sheridan.

Seventh corps area, Sixth Infantry, now at Jefferson Barracks, Camp McClelland, Fort Cooke and Fort McPherson, will be assembled at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

The Sunshine Embroidery Club of Raleigh was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fannie Kennedy in Raleigh. A very delightful program of readings and music was given and dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The pitch-in club of which Miss Edith Brown is a member planned a surprise on her birthday Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Main Street Christian church. She was asked to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Conway. At 8:30 the club members put in their appearance at the parsonage and she was called home for the surprise. Her friend Mrs. Vena Crossstreet of Indianapolis took her place at the piano and Oscar E. Newhouse and Miss Brown stood before the bride's father, the Rev. L. E. Brown, and were united in marriage. After the wedding they went to their home just north of the city followed by the bulk of the crowd and had a gala time.

Besides the members of the club present, the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Brown and son Eldon of West Elkton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crossstreet of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Conway, Miss Olive Parish, George C. Wyatt and daughter Wanda of this city. Refreshments were served and a splendid good time was enjoyed by all even if the surprise was not a complete success.

The Glenwood Sorosis club held its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Walther in Glenwood. The members of the club present answered to roll call with quotations of "News of the World." Mrs. Charles Newhouse, the vice-president, had charge of the program on the account of the inability of the president, Mrs. W. S. Saxon, to be present. Mrs. Roland Murray gave a book review of "The Soul of Ann Rutledge" by Bernie Babeock. Miss Sara Scholl gave two clever readings "Urgin' Ike to Speak" and "An Ode to the Farmer Boy." The business session and program took place in the sun parlor which was beautifully decorated with masses of spring flowers. The guests of the club included Mrs. Russell Baker, Mrs. Berle Hinchman, Mrs. Ralph Elwell, Mrs. Hugh Dickey, Mrs. Albert Dickey, Mrs. Howard Kehl and Miss Stella Shortridge. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting. The next club meeting to be held in two weeks will celebrate the last of the season. It will be featured as an all-day session at the country home of Mrs. Roland Murray south of Glenwood. At the noon hour a pitch-in dinner will be served.

Childish Suffering Always Appealed To Hoosier Poet, Recently Deceased

James Whitcomb Riley, Whose Name Will Inscribe Memorial Hospital For Children, Was Not Only a Lover of Them, But a Great Sympathizer With Them in Their Illness, and Relates How the Poem Was Inspired Concerning the Little Boy, Who Had The Curvature Of The Spine.

Indianapolis, May 11.—James Whitcomb Riley's lips are mute and his pen lies idle on the desk at which he sat in his Lockerbie street home, but to one who reads his poetry there comes between the lines—here and there—a plea in behalf of the maimed and crippled. It is to translate this plea into actual deeds that the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Association has undertaken the task of raising an endowment fund for the proposed Riley hospital for children. In this state institution, to be conducted as one of the units of Indiana University, there will be hope for such children as "The Happy Little Cripple." This child, who had "curvature of the spine," was no creature of Riley's imagination. "The idea of the poem," Mr. Riley once said, "was suggested by a rough, rugged man that I met on one of my tours. I had been lecturing in a little interior town, and had to get up at daylight one cold morning to ride to the nearest railway station.

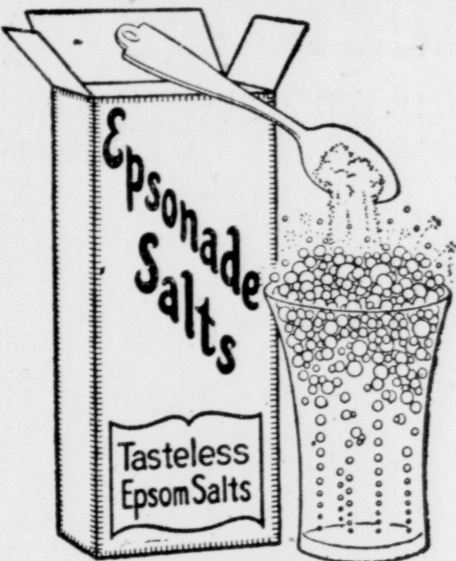

The man who drove me over was one of those hardy characters you meet in the rural regions—one of those men who deem sentimentality a weakness and tears something to be ashamed of. As we rode along over the creaking snow he said: 'I heard you talk last night.' I remarked: 'Indeed! I hope you enjoyed it.' 'Yes,' said he, 'fast rate. My little girl was there. She likes that sort o' thing. She's great on poetry. You may have seen her. She set on the front row. She's a little girl, not very tall. You must 'a' noticed her.' I told him that I did not recall having seen her, and he continued: 'She ain't very big. She don't weigh more'n fifty pound. You see, she's got curvature of the spine. Her mother died when she was a little thing and havin' no one to look out for her as a mother can, she fell downstairs one day and hurt herself. She never got over it. I hev took care o' her the best I know'd how, but she's never grewed. Sometimes I think she'll never be no bigger.' The tears welled to his eyes as he talked. He was ashamed to show the evidence of his grief and turned aside his head. The man went on to say that he had rubbed some liniment on one of his horses that morning and the liniment must have got into his eyes. In that way he explained the tears that gathered there as he told of his sorrow over his crippled little girl. Riley did not follow the story literally, as the readers of the poem will recall. He wove the tale around a little boy who had "curvature of the spine" but who was brave and happy despite his physical infirmities. After having written the poem, Riley considered it one of his best. He always recited it when on a lecture tour. One evening, while he was reciting the story of the happy little cripple, a man and woman in the audience got up and left the hall. As such things aroused his interest he asked a friend to inquire why they had left. The friend informed him that they were the parents of a little hunchback boy and they could not bear to listen to the poem written around just such an unfortunate as they had at home. Fearing that he might offend other parents of crippled children, Riley never recited the poem again.

This is but an example of the manner in which childish suffering appealed to him and those who are planning a great hospital in his memory cannot help feel that as they build in his name they are doing for thousands of maimed children the one thing he would have done had he lived long enough to embrace the opportunity.

WILLETTA HUGGINS, DEAF, BLIND SEES, HEARS THROUGH FINGERS

Chicago, May 11.—Physicians today puzzled over the remarkable faculty exhibited by Willetta Huggins, deaf and blind, to hear and see through her fingers.

The 17 year old girl an orphan and inmate of the Wisconsin school for blind, startled 500 physicians here by a demonstration of her strange powers. All present admitted the girl's gift was genuine.

Besides being deaf and blind, she wore heavy goggles stuffed with cotton and covered with black paper, and her ears were clogged to the satisfaction of all.

Some of the feats of the girl were: Hear perfectly by placing her hands on the wrist, throat or chest of another, through vibration.

Converse with a physician for several minutes who held a ten foot pole against his head while she grasped the other end.

Never forgets a voice which she has once "felt."

Carry on a telephonic conversation by holding her fingers on the receiver.

Read headlines in a newspaper through her finger tips. By rubbing her nose slowly over the paper, she determined there were two men and two women in a picture. Asked how she knew she said:

"There is a white space between the men's legs."

She told denominations of paper money, colors of silk and shades of women's hats, because they "smelled different."

Knows immediately when she meets a person whether they like or dislike her, can tell when she is being looked at and has an infallible faculty for telling when her veracity is questioned even mentally.

Physicians planned to place her under tests for a period of five years before exploiting of her ability is permitted.

I. U. MUSICAL COMEDY WILL BE GIVEN AGAIN

"The Jordan River Revue," in Which Katherine Wyatt Had a Part, Received Favorable Comment

WILL BE REPEATED IN JUNE

Bloomington, Ind., May 11.—Miss Katherine Wyatt, of Rushville, was a member of the cast of 125 Indiana University students who presented "The Jordan River Revue," a bright and entirely original college musical comedy, recently at the Murat Theatre, Indianapolis, in a way which drew favorable comment from Indianapolis dramatic critics and playgoers generally.

"This pleasant little musical comedy had all the air of a metropolitan production," wrote the Indianapolis News in a half-column review of the production. "It had, of course, the freshness of all college plays, but it had, in addition, an excellent presentation, a real idea, several unusually catchy tunes and some good scenery. To one accustomed to seeing college plays given by men only, it was a diversion to see a chorus of pretty girls. All in all, it was a good show. If the reviewer has omitted anything, he apologizes, for everything was worthy of mention."

Miss Wyatt will appear again in The Jordan River Revue during Commencement week at Indiana University, when the show will be presented ed before the graduating class and visiting alumni and friends of the University.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like child and days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, headache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

Says Picture is Censor Proof.
Mae Murray, star of "Peacock Alley," the Tiffany production for Metro presented by Robert Z. Lenoard, showing at the Princess Theatre, again today says that the picture would be absolutely censor proof if there were any "absolute" in censorship.

"It is not milk and water proof, however, but a photoplay that sparkles with the champagne of the Paris restaurants and grows giddy with the night life pocket flasks of New York," she continued.

"In picturing these things we seek merely to 'hold the mirror up to nature,' just as we do in picturing the contrasting scenes in a 'Main Street' Indiana town and in a poetically idyllic village of Normandy.

"I believe that often the moral is taken from a play when some of the action is eliminated by the censors. The idea of cutting out all misdeeds is wrong. If there is no misdeed shown how can we portray the result of the misdeed to the perfect understanding? I believe that every actor and actress wants to point out a moral. Artists are not in favor of appealing to lower instincts. It would give them no returns and they would be losers in the long run. But the main thing is to be truthful. As St. Jerome said it is better that all should be offended than that truth should be concealed."

In "Peacock Alley," Miss Murray plays a Parisian dancer who marries an American business man. The story is by Ouida Bergere, with scenario by Edmund Goulding. The picture is directed by Robert Z. Leonard. The photography is by Oliver T. Marsh, the art settings by Charles Cadwallader and the subtitles by Frederick and Fanny Hatton.

At the Mystic on Friday.

The Saturday Evening Post supplied the story for "Tracked to Earth," the Universal Special Attraction starring Frank Mayo which comes to the Mystic Theatre Friday. William J. Neidig wrote it and Wallace Clifton prepared the continuity. William Worthington directed the filming with Virginia Valli, Harold Goodwin, Buck Connors, Duke Lee, Lon Poff, Jack Walters, Percy Challenger and Arthur Millett in the principal supporting characterizations.

Remembering the wide circulation of the Saturday Evening Post, it is safe to say that thousands will be interested in the showing of this production. A smooth talker, but honest—that is the hero of the drama. If he doesn't win admiration from men and women alike, it is not because of his "line" which is irreproachable in its finesse and polish. He goes into the lonely wastes of the sand hills to find and capture, single-handed, a bandit gang. He traps them in the desert by stealing their horses. But he is seen doing it and the next thing he knows he is the center of a posse which is hunting for a convenient tree limb. He is convicted by taciturn, incurious Westerners of being a horse thief, without any judge, jury or other legal hindrances.

That sounds good. If the rest is as good, it ought to be a knockout of a plot as far as holding the interest is concerned.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR RUSH COUNTY CENTENNIAL

Senator James E. Watson and Fred VanNuys, Former District Attorney to Speak at Celebration

OTHER FEATURES PLANNED

Thursday, June 15, to be Home-Coming Day, When Parade and Pageant Will be Held

BENJAMIN RUSH MAY ATTEND

Partial Assurance Received From Direct Lineal Descendant of Man For Whom County is Named

With definite promises from Senator James E. Watson and Fred VanNuys of Indianapolis, former district attorney for Indiana, and partial assurance from Benjamin Rush, direct lineal descendant of the Benjamin Rush for whom Rush county was named, to be present at the Rush county centennial celebration in Rushville Wednesday and Thursday, June 14 and 15, the program committee has outlined a tentative program for the two days which will likely be followed in commemorating the one hundredth birthday of the county.

Miles S. Cox, chairman of the executive committee, has very cordial letters from Senator Watson and Mr. VanNuys, who will speak, and a letter from Mr. Rush saying that he will be here if it is at all possible. Mr. Rush is the chairman of the board of directors of the Insurance Company of North America, Philadelphia.

The tentative program calls for exercises in the court house yard Wednesday afternoon, which will include a concert by the Indianapolis News' Newsboys' band, the dedication of the bronze tablet by the Rushville chapter of the D. A. R., which is to be placed in the lower corridor of the court house, announcement of the awards in the Rush county history essay contest and an address by Mr. VanNuys.

Thursday has been designated as Home-Coming Day. The program will open with a parade at 1:30 o'clock which is expected to depict the development and progress of the century which has been spanned since Rush county was organized. The parade will end at the coliseum in the city park where there will be a concert by the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home band, followed by an address by Senator Watson. At night there will be a pageant at the coliseum in which the various townships will participate and which will

Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill Against Robert Burns Dismissed in Stech's Court

DEFENDANT APPEARS TODAY

Robert Burns, owner of the carnival company which exhibited here last week, and which is showing at Columbus this week, appeared this morning before Justice John Stech in answer to a charge preferred last Saturday by James O'Brien, in which he was charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

The show owner had been released with the promise to return today, and when he appeared, Prosecutor A. C. Stevens filed a motion to dismiss the case. He stated later that the state had not had time to gather in their witnesses, and that he would refile the charge in the circuit court before Judge Sparks early Friday morning.

O'Brien, the prosecuting witness in the case, is here recuperating from injuries sustained one night on the carnival grounds, when he was assaulted by someone, and beaten about the face. He charged the owner of the show and another man with the crime, but the other party could not be located by the officers.

deal with the lives of the pioneers in Rush county.

The committee in charge of the parade is actively engaged in making preparations for this part of the program with the hope that it will excel the parade held in Rushville in 1916 when the Indiana centennial was celebrated. An effort is being made to interest all industrial establishments in the county so that they will have a float in the parade, and the same effort will be put forth in each township in order to have every one of them represented.

The committee in charge of the closing event on the program, is writing a pageant to cover all phases of the development of the county, which will be enacted on the stage at the coliseum. Many of the townships have figured in the early history of the county will be represented in the pageant.

Senator Watson says in his reply to Mr. Cox, accepting the invitation to attend the Rush county centennial and speak that, "While I have for the last year religiously refrained from accepting invitations to speak, nevertheless I have not the hardihood to decline the one you extend to me on behalf of the committee representing the citizens of Rush county."

"The people there have been generous to me far beyond my poor deserts and I cannot but accede to whatever request they make and answer whatever call they issue. Therefore, I am pleased to accept your invitation and I shall be pleased if you will keep me informed from time to time as to the program of the exercises and as to just what will be expected of me on that occasion."

"I am willing to come out to Rushville," he ends the letter by saying, "either to speak or not to speak just in order to attend the celebration and be among home folks and if I do speak it is now and will then be a matter of indifference to me whether it be for five minutes or two hours and whether it be accompanied by the noise of a good-natured crowd on pleasure bent or in the midst of a silence as dense as that which exists across Flatrock bridge on the higher side of the river. Fix it up to suit yourself and it will be all right with me. Please give my thanks to the other members of the committee for this kindly remembrance and believe me to be, faithfully yours,

"JAMES E. WATSON."

Mr. VanNuys, who was born and reared in Washington township and is now a member of the law firm of Ralston, Gates, Lairy, VanNuys and Barnard of Indianapolis, writes as follows accepting the invitation:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 9th instant, and its kind invitation to speak at the Rush county centennial celebration on Wednesday, June 14.

"I want to take this opportunity to express to you and your committee my deep appreciation of the honor of this invitation. While this spring promises to be a very busy one in court, I shall take pleasure in coming to Rushville on this day and doing what I can to assist in the success of the day.

"Once more, thanking you and your committee for the invitation, and with kind personal regards, I beg to remain, Very truly yours,

"FRED VANNUYS."

ASSESSING WORK ABOUT FINISHED

Annual Spring Task is Being Brought To a Close by the Township Assessors This Week

NEXT MONDAY IS LAST DAY

The assessing of personal property and real estate is gradually being brought to an end this week, as next Monday is the last day of the spring assessment period.

After the township assessors report to the county assessor, the county board of review will meet early in June and begins its review of the assessment lists.

The work is practically all completed in Rushville township, but some of the other township assessors will be busy the remainder of the week gathering up the loose ends of their tasks in time to report next Monday.

Guy Gordon and John Davis, deputy assessors who were assigned to the work of valuing Rushville city real estate for taxation purposes, concluded their duties today, and George Antman, Rushville township assessor, and Dan Spivey, deputy, have concluded the assessment of personal property in the city. Ed Flechart, deputy, has also finished the work on personal property in the township outside of Rushville, but John Joyce, who assessed real estate in the township outside the city, is not quite through.

TWO BANDITS HOLD UP ALERT STATE BANK

After Handcuffing Cashier and Assistant Together, They Escape With $1,500 in Money

ONE GUARDS THE AUTOMOBILE

Alert, Ind., May 11.—Two armed bandits held up the Alert State bank today and escaped with $1,500 all in money.

One of the men guarded an automobile while the other entered the bank with a drawn revolver. "Do what I tell you or I will kill you both," he told the cashier, Ray Campbell, and Miss Cordie Cheek, assistant to Campbell.

Pulling out a pair of handcuffs, he clamped one of them on Campbell's wrist and the other over the wrist of Miss Cheek. Campbell thus was held prisoner outside the cashier's cage and Miss Cheek on the inside. He rummaged through the vault and scraped all money he could find into the sack. The pair drove away toward Columbus at top speed and escaped.

AN EXAMPLE FOR OTHERS

The Rushville public library today received its first gift of money.

The donation was a check for $500 from the estate of the late Edward Austin, who died a few years ago at New Salem and who made a bequest to the library in his will. The estate has just been settled and under the terms of the settlement the check was turned over to the library board.

The board has not yet determined what disposition will be made of the gift. It is probable that the sum will be used as a nucleus of a building fund, but this has not been definitely determined.

Members of the board are hoping that this is an example which will be followed by other citizens of the county. The need of a public library building has long been felt here and in this gift is seen what may be the beginning of the growth of a fund for a suitable building to house the library.

LIFE IN THE LOG CABIN

Log Dwelling Usually About 18 by 20 Feet Was Workshop as Well as Home for Pioneers of Rush County, Who Had to Depend on Their Own Ingenuity For Necessities of Life.

The following article is the sixth of a series regarding the early history of Rush County, which will be published in the Daily Republican between now and the Rush county centennial celebration in June. They will deal with various stages of the early development of the county and were written at the request and suggestion of the publicity committee for the centennial.—Editor's Note.

By MRS. T. M. GREEN
A hundred years of Rush county history have passed, and the humble cabins of a century ago have all been supplanted by more modern buildings, keeping pace with other improvements, which have been accomplished during that period.

In so far as the writer can learn, not a single inhabitable log cabin remains in the county; and this is lamented by the people who love the old-time things, and cherish the relics of long ago—not that they would care to return to the privations of that early day, or be deprived of the present day advantages, but there was a wholesomeness, a sincerity, a love for the home and a contentment which at least causes a sigh to those who have experienced the life.

Richmond City Officials Consider Fire Equipment Like Rushville's

Major Hanley of Richmond, accompanied by Mr. Land, president of the Board of Works and another member of the board, and the fire chief, Edward Miller, all of Richmond, were here Wednesday afternoon inspecting the Seagrave fire truck and pumping engine. Chief Joe Williamson and Firemen Barnes and Moffitt took the truck to the Mill race in South Main street and demonstrated the pumping qualities to the Richmond delegation. That city has six fire stations, and the board meets this afternoon to make their first purchase of a motor pumper, and it is said that they are very much in favor of buying a truck similar to the one in use here.

DIVORCE CASE COMES TO AN ABRUPT END

John T. Meek Dismisses Complaint Against His Wife at Greensburg—Costs Against Plaintiff

DARNELL HEARING IS NEXT

The divorce suit of John T. Meek against Daisy Meek in the Decatur circuit court, came to an abrupt ending Wednesday at Greensburg, when the plaintiff dismissed his complaint, taking the matter out of court. It had previously been intimated that a divorce would be refused. Mrs. Meek, who had filed a cross complaint, had dismissed her action on the first day of the trial.

Judge Craig assessed the costs in the case against the plaintiff, which are said to reach an enormous amount because over 70 witnesses from Rush and Decatur counties had been summoned. The petition of the defendant for an allowance for attorney fees was overruled.

The suit involved a four-corner affair, and there is at present a $10,000 alienation case pending in that court against Meek, filed by Glass Darnell of near Milroy, who alleges that Meek was intimate with his wife. Darnell also has a divorce suit pending in the Rush circuit court, against his wife, Mabel Darnell.

C. W. Duncan and John A. Tiftworth of Rushville were among the attorneys in the action at Greensburg and represented the defense.

PARTLY IDENTIFY THREE SUSPECTS

Chicago Authorities Believe They Have Some of Men Implicated in Killing of Policemen

THREE HUNDRED MEN IN JAIL

Conviction Grows Actual Killers Were Hirelings of Higher-ups Trying to Defeat Landis Award

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 11.—Three hundred men, packing the city jails were in custody today in connection with the labor war killing of two policemen. Three of the suspects had been partially identified as the slayers of the two officers. High union officials were under arrest and will be prosecuted on charges of inciting to riot and with having fostered a reign of terror that resulted in loss of life, under statutes similar to those on which instigators of the Haymarket riots were convicted of anarchy.

Authorities are convinced that the men who did the actual killing were merely hirelings of higher-ups who are trying to defeat the Landis award.

Rewards totalling $60,000 for arrest of the slayers spurred all Chicago to a gigantic man hunt.

The three men partially identified as the slayers were:

Isador Braverman, 28, named by two policemen as one of the men responsible for the attack which killed Lieutenant Terrence Lyons. Braverman's family advanced an alibi.

Max Glass, 33, member of the Glazier's Union and suspected of having driven an automobile from which Policeman Clark was killed.

John Lafferty, notorious police character was partly identified as the third man in the car by an eye witness.

The policemen were killed when they tried to intercept an automobile in which men who tried to bomb buildings, were riding.

Efforts were made today to obtain release of the big three in Chicago building trades unions who were taken into custody following the murder—Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades Council; Big Tim Murphy, the "power" behind Mader and Cornelius Shea, Union officials.

JUDGE SPARKS IS ADVANCED 2 NOTCHES

Becomes Grand Junior Warder Which is Step Further Than He Was Expected to Go

K. T. STATE CONCLAVE ENDS

Judge Will M. Sparks was advanced two notches at the sixty-eighth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar, which ended a two days session in Indianapolis today, when he was elected Grand Junior Warder, which is a step further than he was expected to advance in the path to the Grand Commander's office.

Noblesville won the attendance cup in the parade of the state lodges Wednesday, by having 112 percent present. This was accounted for by having all members present that were in the order on January first, plus those who have been taken in since that time.

The Rushville Commandery was represented with over 60 members in the parade, but their percentage dropped to 45, and Greenfield was well represented, having 65 percent present.

Judge Sparks was to have been advanced to grand standard bearer this year, but on account of one of the officers above him moving from the state, he was advanced two offices.

WHEAT ADVANCES 7 CENTS

Chicago, Ill., May 11.—May wheat advanced seven cents on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The advance was explained as largely due to heavy deliveries on contracts by traders. Unfavorable weather and crop reports also influenced the advance, export buyers of all grains were advised.

TO WITHDRAW NAME OF NAT GOLDSTEIN

Sen. Spencer Asks Withdrawal of His Nomination as Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis

TO SPARE EMBARRASSMENT

(By United Press)

Washington, May 11.—Nat Goldstein of St. Louis has requested President Harding to withdraw from the senate his nomination as collector of internal revenue at St. Louis, Senator Spencer of Missouri announced to the senate today.

Spencer read to the senate a letter to the president from Goldstein which Spencer presented to Harding. The letter said that on account of the many unpleasant things said in the senate regarding Goldstein's acceptance of $2,500 to be a Lowden delegate at the republican convention in 1920, Goldstein felt he must withdraw so as to spare the president embarrassment and to keep democrats from making political capital of the nomination.

Spencer indicated that President Harding would accede to Goldstein's request and withdraw his name from the nomination.

Spencer said he would not refrain from putting into the record expressions of confidence in Goldstein from prominent citizens of St. Louis, although he added that Goldstein's withdrawal to prevent embarrassment to his friends, showed his true character. He then read letters from leading citizens praising Goldstein.

General Amnesty

Attorney General Daugherty is not so easily stampeded as some men who have occupied his important position. Recently a group of women organized a parade of children to petition the President to grant a "general amnesty" to all so-called "political prisoners"—men who have been convicted of impeding the prosecution of the war. One of the children carried a banner which had been prepared for her hearing the legend "My daddy never saw me." All this was intended to win sympathy and distract attention from the plain fact that the prisoners have been found guilty, by the unanimous verdict of juries, of violating the law.

President Harding very properly referred the petitioners to the department of justice, where they were told that each application for a pardon will be acted upon separately and on its own merits solely, and there will be no general pardon granted. That is good sound sense. Whatever may be the merits of one case, it should have no effect, favorable or unfavorable, upon any other case. Whether a daddy has ever seen his daughter has nothing whatever to do with the matter. If he has not seen his daughter through fault of his, that is not a reason for granting him clemency. If the United States had not gone into the war

Nobody can degrade you but yourself.

Politics often compel men to vote for things they are opposed to.

Brilliance won't get a man much of anywhere unless there is honesty combined with it.

HEZ HECK SAYS:

"In makin' predictions, put in plenty of 'ifs' to cover emergencies."

and, having gone in, had not helped win the war, an invading army might have made this man sorry he had a daughter at all. The time for a man to think about his children is when he contemplates the commission of a crime, and the thought should act as a deterrent. If he will not think of them then, he ought not take refuge behind them when he is called to account for his defiance of the government which affords protection not only for him but for his family and friends.

President Harding and Attorney General Daugherty merit the highest praise for refusing to be misled into wholesale clemency for one of the most dangerous classes of criminals. Quite likely there are instances where a commutation of sentence might be proper, but the facts of the individual case and not maudlin sentiment should determine the action to be taken.

SHELBYVILLE TO BE NEXT OPPONENT

Tail Lights Will Play Away From Home and Are Hoping For a Win With Strengthened Team

LESTER SNYDER LOOKS GOOD

His Performance Last Sunday Made Hit With Fans—Byrne is Named Field Manager

With the showing made by the Tail Lights last Sunday against Greenwood, a large crowd is expected to accompany the team to Shelbyville Sunday, where they hook up with the Shelbyville Nationals. The local crew is out to win from the Shelby County aggregation and will give them a hard fight for the honors. The management of the Shelbyville team expects one of the largest crowds in history to witness the game.

Signing of four new players by the Tail Lights is a big boost to the team and playing the brand of ball they exhibited last Sunday, they will make it interesting for any club in the Southern Indiana Baseball Association. Lester Snyder, the new southpaw hurler, seems to be the goods and his performance last Sunday made a hit with the fans. He is cool headed at all times and with the breaks would have won his game last Sunday. He held the Greenwood sluggers to seven scattered bingles.

His brother, Paul Snyder, plays a snappy game at second base and looks good at the stick. Colbe in the outfield is an all around ball player and is expected to be one of the mainstays of the club. The ability of "Slim" Neideffer is well known. He is at home on the infield or out and is relied upon to deliver the goods with the bat. Last Sunday he hit in the pinch and drove in Rushville's two runs. With Byrne, Shaw, Barney, George, Pearsey, Joyce, Sharp and Smith on the squad it is believed that the team will stack up with the best of them.

At a meeting of the club Monday night Byrne was named as field manager for the team and will have complete charge of the men on the field. Practice is being held regularly at the park in preparation for the Shelbyville game and the boys expected to give a good account of themselves. On Sunday, May 21, the Brookville club will be the attraction here.

Muncie, Ind., May 11—Either the Muncie police will have to take a course in target practice or:

School children must don suits of armor school authorities declared today.

While the police were vainly seeking the life of a stray dog near the Blain school this morning, a bullet struck the earth at the feet of a teacher watching children at play in the yard. A second bullet crashed through a window of one of the rooms.

The police declared they were shooting in the opposite direction but school authorities are skeptical and an investigation has been asked.

BLANK THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Shamrocks ball team blanked the high school team Wednesday afternoon in a practice game on the Tail Lights diamonds, by the score of 11 to 0. Martin pitched air tight ball for the winners. The feature of the game was a home run knocked over the fence by Lester Caron, with two on base. The batteries were: Shamrocks, Martin and Tyler; high school, Lakin, Warth and Lucas.

A headline tells of the arrest of a California thief who "stole home a piece at a time." The man who takes that long to steal home ought to be sentenced to work in Connie Mack's outfield.

Experts who have watched the rebuilt Phillies under the leadership of Kaiser Wilhelm claim this team is going to hand out a lot of surprises before the season is over.

REDISTRIBUTION OF THE ARMY ORDERED

Changes in Interest of Efficiency And Economy Are Ordered by The War Department

PART OF REDUCTION PLANS

(By United Press)

Washington, May 11.—A virtual redistribution of the regular army in the interest of economy and efficiency was announced today by the war department. This redistribution is to make the smaller army congress has authorized more effective.

Practically the entire army is now needed, the department said, to prepare and conduct the citizens training camps this summer. In addition to the transfer of four army corps areas, the department announced the following order for troop movement, some of which were said to be tentative.

Fifth corps of eleventh Infantry, from Camp Knox, Ky., to Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Sixth corps area, a part of the 54th Infantry, will be moved from Camp Grant, Ill., to Set Fridge Field, Mich., unless that regiment should be rendered inactive because of reductions of the army.

A part of the Second Barracks, Third Field Artillery, reconstituted from training batteries will be stationed at Fort Sheridan.

Seventh corps area, Sixth Infantry, now at Jefferson Barracks, Camp McClelland, Fort Cooke and Fort McPherson, will be assembled at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

BOOZE RING CASE IS FIRST

(By United Press)

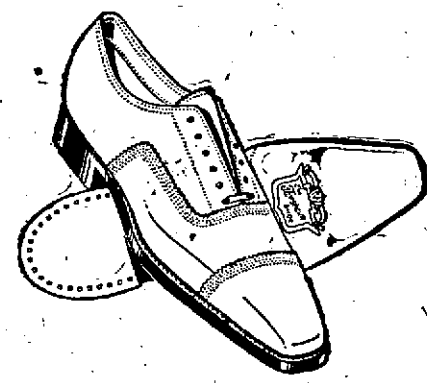

Indianapolis, Ind., May 11.—Thirty-one cases involving seventy-five defendants who pleaded not guilty to grand jury indictments, will be tried in federal court starting May 31, according to the court calendar made public today.

The first case to come to trial will be the Clinton liquor conspiracy involving twenty-one defendants, headed by Jim Carveroo of Clinton. Carveroo is said by government officials to be the head of a booze ring in that part of the state. Among the defendants is Paulo Savindo, sister of Big Jim. Five of the defendants are now in prison, three of them having pleaded guilty.

The last case on the docket is that of George and Ben Applegate and Wilson Cooke, officers of the defunct Corydon National Bank, charged with violation of the national banking laws and federal reserve act. The date for this is June 19.

The pitch-in club of which Miss Edith Brown is a member planned a surprise on her birthday Wednesday evening at the parsonage of the Main Street Christian church. She was asked to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Conway. At 8:30 the club members put in their appearance at the parsonage and she was called home for the surprise. Her friend Mrs. Vena Crosstreet of Indianapolis took her place at the piano and Oscar E. Newhouse and Miss Brown stood before the bride's father, the Rev. L. E. Brown, and were united in marriage. After the wedding they went to their home just north of the city followed by the bulk of the crowd and had a gala time. * * *

Besides the members of the club present, the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Brown and son Eldon of West Elkton, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crosstreet of Indianapolis, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Conway, Miss Olive Parish, George C. Wyatt and daughter Wanda of this city. Refreshments were served and a splendid good time was enjoyed by all even if the surprise was not a complete success. * * *

The Glenwood Sorosis club held its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Walther in Glenwood. The members of the club present answered to roll call with quotations of "News of the World." Mrs. Charles Newhouse, the vice-president, had charge of the program on the account of the inability of the president, Mrs. W. S. Saxon, to be present. Mrs. Roland Murray gave a book review of "The Soul of Ann Rutledge" by Bernie Babcock. Miss Sara Scholl gave two clever readings "Urgin' Ike to Speak" and "An Ode to the Farmer Boy." The business session and program took place in the sun parlor which was beautifully decorated with masses of spring flowers. The guests of the club included Mrs. Russell Baker, Mrs. Berle Hinchman, Mrs. Ralph Elwell, Mrs. Hugh Dickey, Mrs. Albert Dickey, Mrs. Howard Kehl and Miss Stella Shortridge. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting. The next club meeting to be held in two weeks will celebrate the last of the season. It will be featured as an all-day session at the country home of Mrs. Roland Murray south of Glenwood. At the noon hour a pitch-in dinner will be served. * * *

Childish Suffering Always Appealed To Hoosier Poet, Recently Deceased

James Whitcomb Riley, Whose Name Will Inscribe Memorial Hospital For Children, Was Not Only a Lover of Them, But a Great Sympathizer With Them in Their Illness, and Related How the Poem Was Inspired Concerning the Little Boy, Who Had The Curvature Of The Spine.

Indianapolis, May 11.—James Whitcomb Riley's lips are mute and his pen lies idle on the desk at which he sat in his Lockerbie street home, but to one who reads his poetry there comes between the lines—here and there—a plea in behalf of the maimed and crippled. It is to translate this plea into actual deeds that the James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Association has undertaken the task of raising an endowment fund for the proposed Riley hospital for children. In this state institution, to be conducted as one of the units of Indiana University, there will be hope for such children as "The Happy Little Cripple." This child, who had "curvature of the spine," was no creature of Riley's imagination. "The idea of the poem," Mr. Riley once said, "was suggested by a rough, rugged man that I met on one of my tours. I had been lecturing in a little interior town, and had to get up at daylight one cold morning to ride to the nearest railway station.

The man who drove me over was one of those hardy characters you meet in the rural regions—one of those men who deem sentimentality a weakness and tears something to be ashamed of. As we rode along over the creaking snow he said: 'I heard you talk last night.' I remarked: 'Indeed! I hope you enjoyed it.' 'Yes,' said he, 'fast rate. My little girl was there. She likes that sort of thing. She's great on po'try. You may hev seen her. She set on the front row. She's a little girl, not very tall. You must 'a' noticed her.' I told him that I did not recall having seen her, and he continued: 'She ain't very big. She don't weigh more'n fifty pound. You see, she's got curv'ature of the spine. Her mother died when she was a little thing and havin' no one to look out for her as a mother can, she fell downstairs one day and hurt herse'f. She never got over it. I hev took care o' her the best I know'd how, but she's never grewed. Sometimes I think she'll never be no bigger.' The tears welled to his eyes as he talked. He was ashamed to show the evidence of his grief and turned aside his head. I know'd how, but she's never grewed. Sometimes I think she'll never be any bigger.' The tears welled to his eyes as he talked. He was ashamed to show the evidence of his grief and turned aside his head.

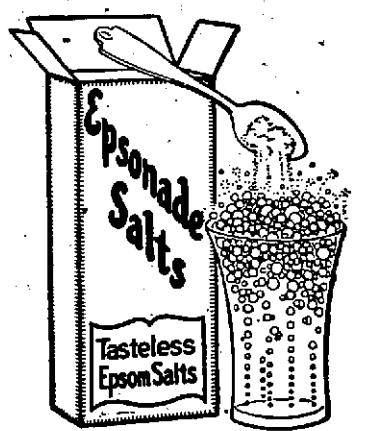

The man went on to say that he had rubbed some liniment on one of his horses that morning and the liniment must have got into his eyes. In that way he explained the tears that gathered there as he told of his sorrow over his crippled little girl. Riley did not follow the story literally, as the readers of the poem will recall. He wove the tale around a little boy who had "curvature of the spine" but who was brave and happy despite his physical infirmities. After having written the poem, Riley considered it one of his best. He always recited it when on a lecture tour. One evening, while he was reciting the story of the happy little cripple, a man and woman in the audience got up and left the hall. As such things aroused his interest he asked a friend to inquire why they had left. The friend informed him that they were the parents of a little hunchback boy and they could not bear to listen to the poem written around just such an unfortunate as they had at home. Fearing that he might offend other parents of crippled children, Riley never recited the poem again.

This is but an example of the manner in which childish suffering appealed to him and those who are planning a great hospital in his memory cannot help feel that as they build in his name they are doing for thousands of maimed children the one thing he would have done had he lived long enough to embrace the opportunity.

WILLETTA HUGGINS, DEAF, BLIND SEES, HEARS THROUGH FINGERS

Chicago, May 11.—Physicians today puzzled over the remarkable faculty exhibited by Willetta Huggins, deaf and blind, to hear and see through her fingers.

The 17 year old girl an orphan and inmate of the Wisconsin school for blind, startled 500 physicians here by a demonstration of her strange powers. All present admitted the girl's gift was genuine.

Besides being deaf and blind, she wore heavy goggles stuffed with cotton and covered with black paper, and her ears were clogged to the satisfaction of all.

Some of the feats of the girl were: Hear perfectly by placing her hands on the wrist, throat or chest of another, through vibration.

Converse with a physician for several minutes who held a ten foot pole against his head while she grasped the other end.

Never forgets a voice which she has once "felt."

Carry on a telephone conversation by holding her fingers on the receiver.

Read headlines in a newspaper through her finger tips. By rubbing her nose slowly over the paper, she determined there were two men and two women in a picture. Asked how she knew she said:

"There is a white space between the men's legs."

She told denominations of paper money, colors of silk and shades of women's hats, because they "smelled different."

Knows immediately when she meets a person whether they like or dislike her, can tell when she is being looked at and has an infallible faculty for telling when her veracity is questioned even mentally.

Physicians planned to place her under tests for a period of five years before exploiting of her ability is permitted.

I. U. MUSICAL COMEDY WILL BE GIVEN AGAIN

"The Jordan River Revue," in Which Katherine Wyatt Had a Part, Received Favorable Comment

WILL BE REPEATED IN JUNE

Bloomington, Ind., May 11.—Miss Katherine Wyatt, of Rushville, was a member of the cast of 125 Indiana University students who presented "The Jordan River Revue," a bright and entirely original college musical comedy, recently at the Murtat Theater, Indianapolis, in a way which drew favorable comment from Indianapolis dramatic critics and playgoers generally.

"This pleasant little musical comedy had all the air of a metropolitan production," wrote the Indianapolis News in a half-column review of the production. "It had, of course, the freshness of all college plays, but it had, in addition, an excellent presentation, a real idea, several unusually catchy tunes and some good scenery. To one accustomed to seeing college plays given by men only, it was a diversion to see a chorus of pretty girls. All in all, it was a good show. If the reviewer has omitted anything, he apologizes, for everything was worthy of mention."

Miss Wyatt will appear again in The Jordan River Revue during Commencement week at Indiana University, when the show will be presented.

MRS. HATFIELD SABINA, OHIO

In Pitiable Condition when she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabina, Ohio.—I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish.—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble. Give it a fair trial. It surely helped Mrs. Hatfield, just as it has many, many other women.

Says Picture is Censor Proof.

Mae Murray, star of "Peacock Alley," the Tiffany production for Metro presented by Robert Z. Lenoard, showing at the Princess Theatre, again today says that the picture would be absolutely censor proof if there were any "absolute" in censorship.

"It is not milk and water proof, however, but a photoplay that sparkles with the champagne of the Paris restaurants and grows giddy with the night life pocket flasks of New York," she continued.

"In picturing these things we seek merely to 'hold the mirror up to nature,' just as we do in picturing the contrasting scenes in a 'Main Street' Indiana town and in a poetically idyllic village of Normandy.

"I believe that often the moral is taken from a play when some of the action is eliminated by the censors. The idea of cutting out all misdeeds is wrong. If there is no misdeed shown how can we portray the result of the misdeed to the perfect understanding? I believe that every actor and actress wants to point out a moral. Artists are not in favor of appealing to lower instincts. It would give them no returns and they would be losers in the long run. But the main thing is to be truthful. As St. Jerome said it is better that all should be offended than that truth should be concealed."

In "Peacock Alley," Miss Murray plays a Parisian dancer who marries an American business man. The story is by Ouida Bergere, with scenario by Edmund Goulding. The picture is directed by Robert Z. Leonard. The photography is by Oliver T. Marsh, the art settings by Charles Cadwallader and the subtitles by Frederick and Fanny Hatton.

At the Mystic on Friday.

The Saturday Evening Post supplied the story for "Tracked to Earth," the Universal Special Attraction starring Frank Mayo which comes to the Mystic Theatre Friday. William J. Neidig wrote it and Wallace Clifton prepared the continuity. William Worthington directed the filming with Virginia Valli, Harold Goodwin, Jack Connors, Duke Lee, Lon Poff, Jack Walters, Percy Challenger and Arthur Millett in the principal supporting characterizations.

Remembering the wide circulation of the Saturday Evening Post, it is safe to say that thousands will be interested in the showing of this production. A smooth talker, but honest—that is the hero of the drama. If he doesn't win admiration from men and women alike, it is not because of his "line" which is irreprachable in its finesse and polish. He goes into the lonely wastes of the sand hills to find and capture, single-handed, a bandit gang. He traps them in the desert by stealing their horses. But he is seen doing it and the next thing he knows he is the center of a posse which is hunting for a convenient tree limb. He is convicted by taciturn, incurious Westerners of being a horse thief, without any judge, jury or other legal hindrances.

That sounds good. If the rest is as good, it ought to be a knockout of a plot as far as holding the interest is concerned.

A Souvenir.

The Boston Transcript recently ran across this in a story: "She held out her hand and the young man took it and departed."
